

Raleigh Social News.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
 Raleigh, N. C., September 17.—A quiet home wedding that was of special interest socially here was that of Miss Mary Sue McGee, daughter of Dr. McGee, who was married to Mr. W. C. Lee, son of Mr. Lee, at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. C. C. Lee, on Halifax Street.

The opening of St. Mary's School, Peace Institute and Meredith College and the North Carolina College of Agriculture and Mechanical Arts during the past week have reassembled in Raleigh. Hundreds of young women and young men who will for ten months share largely and contribute very greatly to the social interest and activities of the capital city. All four of these schools have the largest attendance for the season just opening that they have ever had.

Mrs. Charles Lee Smith was hostess for the Johnson-Pettigrew Chapter, Daughters of the Confederacy, Wednesday afternoon, when the preliminary arrangements were made for the representation of the Raleigh chapter at the convention of the North Carolina division at Rocky Mount, October 12. Keenest interest is being manifested in the contest of Mrs. J. W. Faison, of Charlotte, and Mrs. F. M. Williams, of Newton, for indorsement as president. Mrs. Smith provided charming entertainment for the Daughters, following the business session.

Miss Sue Norman McGee, who will on next Tuesday become the bride of Dr. Harper, of Bladen county, was the guest of honor Monday afternoon at a luncheon given by Miss Mattie Reese at her home on East Lane Street. Wedding bells and unique prescription boxes from the Capital Pharmacy were special features of the affair. A lovely bride's book was a souvenir for the guest of honor. The guests were principally the members of the Philanthropic Book Club, and included Misses Alice Wilson, Mary King, Myrtle King, Annie Evans, Bessie Brown, Priscilla Dodson, Mary Clark, Louise Womble, Corilla and Ella Mills, Jennie Proctor and Mrs. W. B. Lyon.

Tuesday evening Miss Mary King entertained in honor of Miss Sue McGee, who is to become the bride of Dr. Harper, next Monday. The affair was a "tea shower," and was attended by a large number of friends of the guest of honor.

Mrs. T. N. Ivey and daughter, Miss Margaret, have arrived to spend the fall and winter, and will be joined in November by Dr. Ivey, now editor of the Nashville Christian Advocate, to spend some time. Mrs. Ivey and Miss Margaret have been at Hiddenite for the summer.

Miss Jane Meares, of Wilmington, spent several days here the past week, a guest at St. Mary's College.

Mrs. J. N. Heck and Miss Pearl Heck are at home again. Mrs. Heck having spent some time at Charlottesville, Va., with her daughter, Mrs. Alphonso Smith, and Miss Pearl Heck, at Newport.

Roanoke Social News.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
 Roanoke, Va., September 17.—Mrs. W. K. Andrews entertained a few friends at bridge at her home Tuesday morning. A delicious luncheon was served after the game.

Thursday in her apartments in the Gainesboro, Mrs. R. L. Morgan was hostess at a charming bridge party. Four tables were in play. An out of town guest was Mrs. S. E. Booker, of Culpeper.

William Watts Chapter, United Daughters of the Confederacy, held an interesting meeting Wednesday in its clubroom and outlined work for the coming winter. Mrs. S. J. Evans, the newly elected president, presided. Four new members were enrolled.

Mr. and Mrs. W. Cole Early, of Memphis, Tenn., visited Mrs. J. E. Early, Tyler Meadows, Wednesday, on their way home from a visit to Atlantic City.

Misses Mary Dodd Fox and Lucy Early will leave tomorrow for Hollins Institute.

The Florence Music Club held its first meeting of the season Thursday night in the home of Mrs. Mabel Rhodes.

Mrs. Samuel Edward Booker of Culpeper, who has been the guest of Mrs. Dexter S. Meadows, Roanoke Street, S. W., has returned home.

Mrs. J. J. Malone, of Savannah, Ga., who has been visiting relatives in this city and section, returned home Friday.

Mrs. J. Thomas Towles, of Willow Ky., is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Burns, Franklin Road.

Mr. and Mrs. Samuel W. Hairston and their little daughter, Elizabeth, have returned from a month's visit to relatives in Greenville.

Miss Margaret Byrum left Tuesday for Danville to enter Randolph-Macon Institute.

Miss Nan Dupuy, of Richmond, who has been the guest of relatives here, has returned home.

Mr. and Mrs. R. S. Koehler have returned from a ten days' visit to New York City and Boston. In New York they met Miss Josephine Koehler, who spent the summer abroad.

Miss Ethel Rucker, of Lynchburg, is the guest of Mrs. J. E. Niningor, 60th Avenue, S. W.

Miss Pearl C. Cole left Wednesday for Winston-Salem, N. C., to enter college.

John Gray Paul, son of Mr. and Mrs. Rockingham Paul, left Tuesday for New York City to enter Bingham School.

Mr. and Mrs. K. L. Lunsford have returned from a brief visit to friends at seven Mile Ford.

Miss Grace Craddock, of Richmond, is visiting Miss Pauline Rutrough.

There's DELICIOUSNESS IN EVERY DROP

Back over in Sunny Italy, in the famous Lucca District, are grown the finest Olives in the world.

Here are groves in the highest state of cultivation, and bearing Olives that are rich in the oils that mean so much to the good cooks everywhere.

From These Perfect Olives Is Made The Wonderful Lucca Olive Oils---"The Best In Every Way"

The Olives are gathered and prepared by expert people who have worked and studied the art of making Olive Oil for a lifetime---in fact, their fathers before them were skilled in this work. The presses and surroundings are ideal---Cleanliness---Purity---Correct Strength---these are the things sought after always.

You Should Always Have a Supply on Hand

Because pure Olive Oil is one of the most wholesome, healthy, nourishing, necessary things in making savory dishes. But do not trifle with impure goods, get LuccaOil. Here are the lowest prices for best oil.

70c Per Quart. $1.25 Per Half Gallon. $2.40 Per Gallon.

These prices are possible simply because I am the importer and buy in vast quantities, thus saving in many ways.

500 West Main St. CHASIE TRAFIERI, Phone Madison 4220.
LANDI BROS., 424 E. Marshall Street, Local Distributors.

SUMMER RESORTS

OUTDOOR SPORTS ARE PROVING POPULAR

Golf Links at White Sulphur Thronged Each Day With Devotees of the Game.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
 White Sulphur Springs, W. Va., September 17.—As the autumn days grow crisp and cool the relish for out of door sports is very noticeable. The golf links, always in favor, are now being worked overtime. As soon as the breakfast hour is over, the caddies line up to soon marching linkward. Mr. and Mrs. T. H. West, of St. Louis, have made some fine records this week. Dr. Garrett Nelson, Mr. Hanewinkel and Mrs. Frank D. Williams, of Richmond, are also among the enthusiasts.

Dr. J. B. Gildersleeve, of Richmond, who is spending the season here, spent a few days at the Hot Springs this week.

Mrs. George T. Mayne, of Washington, was hostess at a bridge party this week.

Mrs. W. H. Woodward, of Washington, gave a piazza bridge party with supper afterward in honor of a number of friends.

Carter W. Branch and James Aiken Branch, of Richmond, were the weekend guests of John P. Branch, Esq.

Dr. J. B. Gildersleeve, of Richmond, who has come from the Rockbridge Baths to spend the autumn at the White Sulphur Springs, is accounted a fine bridge player, and is making some enviable scores.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Wortham, Jr., who have spent some time at the White Sulphur, gave a farewell card party, followed by a supper at the Casino, to a number of friends before leaving for Richmond.

Mrs. Robert R. Lee, of New York, is entertaining a house party at her cottage in South Carolina Row, which includes Miss Nan Godwin, of Fincastle, Va.; Miss Emma St. John Carper, Rocky Mount, Va.; and Norwood Carpenter, Charleston, W. Va.

The West Virginia Fire Underwriters' Association, with a large delegation, is holding its annual convention at White Sulphur Springs this week with F. W. Scherer, of Wheeling, presiding. The agents covering the territory including Pennsylvania, Ohio, Virginia, and West Virginia are very much in evidence.

A. M. Travers, of Richmond, is here attending the convention of Fire Underwriters.

F. W. Hanewinkel, of Richmond, who spent some days at the White Sulphur Springs, is riding horseback through the West Virginia mountains.

Among the arrivals from Richmond this week are: Dr. J. B. Gildersleeve, Mrs. M. S. James and child, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Lyman, Miss M. B. James, Mrs. W. B. Palmer, Miss Bolling, Willis Baker, Thomas B. McDams, John Aiken Branch, Carter W. Branch, James T. Sloan, C. H. Murphy, Isaac Davenport, F. W. Hanewinkel, R. E. Michael, W. Michael, J. M. Young and A. M. Travers.

SEASON IN FULL SWING AT NATURAL BRIDGE

Many of the Summer Visitors Remained to Enjoy Beautiful Fall Days at Resort.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
 Natural Bridge, Va., September 17.—As the summer season draws to a close, each new season is but a continuation of the old, and finds no change of arrangements or any limit set to the length of one's sojourn. The fall season is now on in full swing, and offers its pleasures of time and place. The weather is just what is needed for these heights, and are thoroughly enjoyed by the fall colony. Some of the days have been too cool for meetings of the pleasure club, and its members have had to take their lively chatter, embroidery and bridge to the cheering warmth of a log fire in the lobby. Riding and driving, swimming and fishing, tennis and bowling still make up the outdoor life of the place.

Quite the most stirring event of this month will be the meeting of the Acca Chapter of the Mystic Shrine, to be held here on the 24th. They will come in a large body, and will have a parade under the Bridge with brilliant illumination in their honor and later a banquet.

Many of the summer colony are lingering here for the later season. Among these are Colonel and Mrs. Andrew Jackson Smith, of Washington, D. C., charming frequenters of the Bridge, who have been here since the spring. Mrs. E. O. McCabe and little daughter, of Danville, are also here. Mrs. J. Temple and Mrs. R. B. Todd, of Richmond, have spent a pleasant week at the Bridge.

Mrs. John C. Hagan and her handsome daughter, Miss Katherine Hagan, of Richmond, are returning at the Bridge before going over to Lexington, where Miss Hagan will attend the opening of the V. M. I. recently visited his mother here.

Mrs. D. A. Barnes, of Murfreesboro, N. C., and her daughter, Miss Beatie Sarah and Annie, make up an attractive party that add to the pleasure of the fall colony.

Mrs. J. Glenn, Miss Ethel Glenn and Dr. B. Glenn, of New Orleans, recently visited the Bridge.

Dr. J. B. Gildersleeve, of Richmond, of Jacksonville, Fla., a delightful colonist of the early summer, have returned here after a sojourn in the beautiful Texas country. They are accompanied by Dr. Randolph Meyer, of Jacksonville, Fla.

Also Dr. M. Cona and Master Cona, of

New York, are among the fall colonists.

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Heald, of Lynchburg, chaperoned a motor party that spent a delightful week-end here. The other members were Misses Maude Caskey, Gladys and Jeanie Heald and Messrs. James Caskey and Alexis Owen. Motor cars from all parts of the country came in daily. Those of the past week were Mrs. George H. Weiss, Jr., and party, of Portland, Ore.; Mrs. Flora A. Stewart and party, of Roanoke; Dr. G. L. Wiley and party, of Savannah, Ga.; Dr. Paul McElhenry, of New Orleans, with a party from Lexington, Mr. and Mrs. George Cole Scott, of Richmond, and Mr. and Mrs. Neave, of New York, who came over from Hot Springs; Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Ricketts, of Covington; Donaphan Owen and party, of Lynchburg; Mr. and Mrs. M. F. Mohler and party, of Charleston, Va.; Ashby Williams and party, of Roanoke; Dr. G. L. Wiley and party, of Roanoke; W. Birkbeck and party, of Cedarhurst, Ga.; Mr. and Mrs. Hollis Rinehart, of Washington, D. C.; Mrs. Ricketts, of Lynchburg; Mr. and Mrs. Bradbrook and party, of D. Pleasant, Pa.; Lyman D. Gilbert, of Harrisburg, Pa.; George Cameron, of Petersburg, Va.; and party also from Hot Springs, and Professor and Mrs. W. M. Lile and party, of University of Virginia.

WILL TEACH INDIANS AT PAMUNKNE SCHOOL

Mrs. Lucy Dudley Will Be Associated With Miss Lumsden in This Work.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
 West Point, Va., September 17.—Lucy Dudley, of West Point, sister of Mrs. A. J. Montague, of Richmond, has been appointed to teach the coming session. The Indians on this reservation do not vote, and hence do not vote, and are not citizens, but wards of the State, and Virginia has awakened to the fact that these wards must have the best of everything. The State Board of Public Instruction has for a number of years sent them a teacher for a short session, but two years ago an appropriation was made and a full session allowed, and Miss Agnes Lumsden, of Marion, was sent to the reservation. The effect of her labors soon became manifest. The attendance at the school rapidly went up from fifteen to thirty. In fact, every child of school age in the reservation attended her classes. A good school building is now there. Miss Lumsden is an expert in manual training and drawing, and at once proceeded to allow the Indians the benefit of her knowledge in these lines. Among other things she introduced bead work, which so delighted the Indians that it is said that even the braves are manipulating the needle with a great deal of skill, but whether this be true or not, all of the women and children—big and little—are at it. The oldest bead artist is a dame of sixty-nine. They make all kinds of pretty things of beads, and sell them as souvenirs. Some have developed a remarkable capacity for designing, while not a few of them have produced drawings which are decidedly creditable.

MANY GUESTS REMAIN TO ENJOY FALL SEASON

Great Variety of Attractions and Amusements Make Time Pass Pleasantly.

Blue Ridge Springs, Va., September 17.—This summer season at Blue Ridge Springs, which has been in every respect one of the gayest and most successful in the history of the place, has merged into that of autumn. It is no less pleasant, with quite a number of guests remaining to enjoy the perfect days of September. One of the most charming card parties of the summer was that given by S. W. Johns, of Lynchburg, in compliment to the young woman at Blue Ridge Springs. Progressive 500 was played and greatly enjoyed. The first prize, a dainty pearl pin, fell to Miss Pickens, of Albemarle, the consolation, Miss Lila Harrell, of South Boston. Sandwiches, olives, trappes and candy were served. Mr. Johns' guests were Misses Todd, Harrell, Moore, Pickens, Ingram, Mary Brown, Norma Bonner, Griffin, Mesdames Bonner, Griffin, McGill, Todd, Brown, Martin and Messrs. John Brown, Jr., Martin, Philip S. Brown, Wirt Brown, J. G. Glass, Jr., Hoffman, Charles Penick, William Penick and S. W. Johns.

A very delightful card party was given on Monday evening by Philip F. Brown in honor of Miss Julia Todd, of Norfolk. Mr. Brown himself making the highest score and gracefully presenting the prize, a handsome basket, to Miss Todd, the guest of honor, who since childhood has spent the summers at Blue Ridge Springs, enjoying the popularity of the place. The consolation prize, a pretty paper knife, was won on the cut by William Penick, of South Boston. Delicious refreshments were served.

Quite a party made the climb to Wildcat Knob on Tuesday, the view from the Knob, the highest point near the Springs, being very fine.

Roanoke still attracts many who go shopping and sight-seeing. A party of young people, who were making the trip up the incline on Mill Mountain, William Penick gave a bowling match on Saturday morning to the young people. The highest score was made by Miss Julia Todd.

Drives and horseback rides to Montebello, Va., a charming place, and other places of interest afford great pleasure.

Miss Bonner, of Texas, entertained a party of young people, who were making the trip up the incline on Mill Mountain, on Thursday evening after the dancing.

THE APPROACH OF FALL ATTRACTS MANY GUESTS

Branswick Inn Still Filled With Continental Company—Entertainments of Past Week.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
 Branswick, Va., September 17.—Bracing breezes, beautiful tint of autumn leaves and the ripening of chinquapins and chestnuts betoken the approach of fall and attract many to the mountains at this season.

The guests of the inn continue to indulge in their bridge parties. On Monday night Mrs. C. S. Rogers, of Baltimore, made the highest score.

A tacky party was enjoyed by both the older and younger set on Monday. Many and truly were the costumes in which the participants arrayed themselves.

On Tuesday night an informal dance was held in the ball room.

Miss Underwood, of Smithfield, has joined her sister, Mrs. S. West Tabb, for September. Mrs. Tabb has made the inn her summer home. Mrs. Underwood is a talented musician and delights the guests with her charming music. Mrs. Tabb's sweet voice has also added great pleasure to music-lovers.

Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Wilson and little son, C. C., have come to the Branswick Inn for September. They have been welcomed by many friends here.

Mrs. Ed Richards and children, of Lynchburg, are guests of the inn.

Miss Martha Graham, of Norfolk, has arrived to be with her friend, Mrs. Frank Parker, who has been at the inn for the summer.

Drives in the fresh autumn air and beautiful mountain scenery are most enjoyable. Frequent parties are given by the guests. The new macadamized road up to Mountain Top is one of the favorite drives, giving one a grand view of the valley.

PROMINENT ARRIVALS FOR THE FALL SEASON

Society Starts in Anew at Hot Springs on Round of Teas, Luncheons, and Bridge Parties.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
 Virginia Hot Springs, September 17.—With a long list of prominent arrivals at the Homestead and the arrival of the fall villa colony members, society here has started in anew to attend a series of luncheons, dinners, teas, auction and bridge parties, and a house warming, which was the feature of the week.

The Rev. and Mrs. J. Avery Norris, of Glen Cove, L. I., who spent the summer at the old Colonial Hotel at the Healing Springs, gave a house warming and tea at Sue Manse on Wednesday afternoon. Mr. Norris has recently taken charge of the Presbyterian Church here. Mrs. Norris, who resided at the old Colonial Hotel, has been assisted by Mrs. Ethelbert Talbot, and Mrs. Frederic Story, who poured tea, was assisted by Miss Jeter. Miss Helen Norris presided over the punch bowl. Nearly a hundred members of the villa and hotel colonies called.

Mrs. Randolph Tucker was the guest of honor at one of the most attractive teas of the week at the Casino on Tuesday afternoon, given by her daughter, Mrs. John Carmichael. Invited to meet Mrs. Tucker were the Governor of West Virginia and Mrs. William E. Glasscock, the Bishop of Southern Pennsylvania and Mrs. Ethelbert Talbot, Captain Edward Offley, U. S. N., and Mrs. Offley, the Rev. and Mrs. J. Avery Norris, Mr. H. S. Pole, Mrs. Edgar A. Pole, Miss Augusta Wilson, and Dr. Delane S. Fitzgerald.

A charming informal morning musicale was given at the President's bungalow on Monday by Mrs. Charles Neave, who leaves with her family next week for New York, when Miss Ruth Harrison and a party will arrive to spend the fall season at the Branswick. The company included Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Caperton, Mrs. A. Lee Robinson, Mrs. Farraday, Mrs. Caroline Wood, Miss Le Moine, William Libby, C. W. Sweet and R. L. Sweet.

Mrs. William Armstrong Lane, who has entertained at a series of musicales, gave a tea at the clubhouse, following music on Thursday. Among the guests were Judge and Mrs. William Harrison Jackson, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Coleman, Mrs. Willie James, Mrs. W. C. Worthington, Mr. Lane, William Allen, J. T. McAllister and F. G. Landon.

Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Bright were dinner hosts at Bright View early in the week, when the Homestead Sextet rendered a program of songs and plantation melodies for the company, including Mr. and Mrs. George T. M. Gibson, Mr. and Mrs. M. E. Taylor, Mrs. Arthur Cary, Mrs. Willie James and Mrs. Worthington.

Society matrons and debutantes have formed a French class, which meets several times a week at Inglescot, with Mrs. Melville E. Ingalls, and at the last meeting Madame Louise Armellini read Rodand's "Chantecler."

After the company adjourned to meet at a picnic tea given by Mr. and Mrs. George Ingalls at the Lower Cascades.

Among several other picnic teas given at the Cascades lately was the affair given for a large party of juniors by Mrs. Jackson Wallingford, of Cincinnati, who has taken one of the best cottages at the Healing Springs for the fall season.

Mr. and Mrs. Stuyvesant Fish, who have been here for the past two weeks and are spending their time not occupied by taking the "kur" by climbing the surrounding mountains and long walks on the Boulevard, entertained a motor party on Sunday afternoon in compliment to Mrs. John Kean and Miss Lucy Kean, who are also taking the baths.

Mr. and Mrs. Francis Kay Pendleton, who have one of the hotel cottages for the fall season, gave an auction tea one afternoon for the Misses Charlotte and Belle Andrews, who have joined friends here for a visit of several months.

Judge and Mrs. William Harrison Jackson were entertained at a handsomely appointed luncheon at the Homestead on Sunday by Mrs. Audenried, who has done little or no entertaining since her arrival in June.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Lottor, who have leased a hotel cottage for the fall season, are expected from the North Shore shortly, as is Miss Margaret Draper, daughter of the late ambassador to Rome. Miss Draper will be the house guest of Miss Alice Whiting, at Barton Lodge.

Mr. and Mrs. Melville E. Ingalls and the Misses Gladys Ingalls and Abbie Barnard will spend the fall season at Inglescot and will entertain several house parties.

Mrs. Ava Willing Astor, who will arrive next Wednesday to spend several weeks at the Homestead, will be entertained by a number of friends here.

The Baron and Baroness Rosenkrantz will sail from London next week and after a brief visit in New York and Washington will join Mr. and Mrs. George Gunton at Gunton Lodge for the fall and winter seasons.

The Comtesse de Sibour and the Vicomtesse Henri de Sibour, who have been house guests of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Moore, at Pride's Crossing, arrived here Thursday and will be joined later at the Homestead by a party of Washington friends.

Miss Gaudier, who arrived several weeks earlier than usual for the fall season, came down from Newport last week.

Mrs. Gouverneur Kortright arrived at the Springs this morning, when a special train of six Pullman sleepers brought in a crowd for the week-end.

leaved a hotel cottage for the fall season, are expected from the North Shore shortly, as is Miss Margaret Draper, daughter of the late ambassador to Rome. Miss Draper will be the house guest of Miss Alice Whiting, at Barton Lodge.

Mr. and Mrs. Melville E. Ingalls and the Misses Gladys Ingalls and Abbie Barnard will spend the fall season at Inglescot and will entertain several house parties.

Mrs. Ava Willing Astor, who will arrive next Wednesday to spend several weeks at the Homestead, will be entertained by a number of friends here.

The Baron and Baroness Rosenkrantz will sail from London next week and after a brief visit in New York and Washington will join Mr. and Mrs. George Gunton at Gunton Lodge for the fall and winter seasons.

The Comtesse de Sibour and the Vicomtesse Henri de Sibour, who have been house guests of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Moore, at Pride's Crossing, arrived here Thursday and will be joined later at the Homestead by a party of Washington friends.

Miss Gaudier, who arrived several weeks earlier than usual for the fall season, came down from Newport last week.

Mrs. Gouverneur Kortright arrived at the Springs this morning, when a special train of six Pullman sleepers brought in a crowd for the week-end.

leaved a hotel cottage for the fall season, are expected from the North Shore shortly, as is Miss Margaret Draper, daughter of the late ambassador to Rome. Miss Draper will be the house guest of Miss Alice Whiting, at Barton Lodge.

Mr. and Mrs. Melville E. Ingalls and the Misses Gladys Ingalls and Abbie Barnard will spend the fall season at Inglescot and will entertain several house parties.

Mrs. Ava Willing Astor, who will arrive next Wednesday to spend several weeks at the Homestead, will be entertained by a number of friends here.

The Baron and Baroness Rosenkrantz will sail from London next week and after a brief visit in New York and Washington will join Mr. and Mrs. George Gunton at Gunton Lodge for the fall and winter seasons.

The Comtesse de Sibour and the Vicomtesse Henri de Sibour, who have been house guests of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Moore, at Pride's Crossing, arrived here Thursday and will be joined later at the Homestead by a party of Washington friends.

Miss Gaudier, who arrived several weeks earlier than usual for the fall season, came down from Newport last week.

Mrs. Gouverneur Kortright arrived at the Springs this morning, when a special train of six Pullman sleepers brought in a crowd for the week-end.

leaved a hotel cottage for the fall season, are expected from the North Shore shortly, as is Miss Margaret Draper, daughter of the late ambassador to Rome. Miss Draper will be the house guest of Miss Alice Whiting, at Barton Lodge.

Mr. and Mrs. Melville E. Ingalls and the Misses Gladys Ingalls and Abbie Barnard will spend the fall season at Inglescot and will entertain several house parties.

Mrs. Ava Willing Astor, who will arrive next Wednesday to spend several weeks at the Homestead, will be entertained by a number of friends here.

The Baron and Baroness Rosenkrantz will sail from London next week and after a brief visit in New York and Washington will join Mr. and Mrs. George Gunton at Gunton Lodge for the fall and winter seasons.

The Comtesse de Sibour and the Vicomtesse Henri de Sibour, who have been house guests of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Moore, at Pride's Crossing, arrived here Thursday and will be joined later at the Homestead by a party of Washington friends.

Miss Gaudier, who arrived several weeks earlier than usual for the fall season, came down from Newport last week.

Mrs. Gouverneur Kortright arrived at the Springs this morning, when a special train of six Pullman sleepers brought in a crowd for the week-end.

RIDING AND DRIVING ATTRACTIVE TO GUESTS

Brandon Hotel Still Thronged With Visitors—Bridge Remains Popular.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
 Music City, Va., September 17.—The guests at the Brandon Hotel are still lingering and enjoying this beautiful month in the mountains. Every day different parties enjoy driving and riding. The roads are good, and the scenery particularly beautiful this time of the year. Bridge is still very popular in the evening. The ball room is always filled with dancers and those enjoy listening to the music.

Several automobile parties have stopped at the Brandon during the past week. One party from Richmond spent Monday night here on its return from Natural Bridge. Those in the party were Mr. and Mrs. C. Patterson, Mrs. James Pleasant, Mrs. George Massie, Colonel E. C. Massie and son, James Massie.

Another touring party from Richmond spent Sunday night at the hotel. These in the party were T. D. Grant, W. D. Rowe, L. S. Rice and W. C. Blanton. They found many friends at the hotel, and that evening took a number for a beautiful ride, which was thoroughly enjoyed.

Mrs. William Robertson Caners, of Richmond, has made many friends while here who will remember with great pleasure her numerous and attractive chafing dish parties.

Miss Edmo Lawrence is among the late arrivals and entertaining guests at the Brandon.

A party of four spent Wednesday at Natural Bridge and had a most pleasant time. Those in the party were Mr. and Mrs. William A. Aery, of Hampton; Miss Inezena Riddick, of Richmond, and Miss Rosa Mosely, of Richmond.

leaved a hotel cottage for the fall season, are expected from the North Shore shortly, as is Miss Margaret Draper, daughter of the late ambassador to Rome. Miss Draper will be the house guest of Miss Alice Whiting, at Barton Lodge.

Mr. and Mrs. Melville E. Ingalls and the Misses Gladys Ingalls and Abbie Barnard will spend the fall season at Inglescot and will entertain several house parties.

Mrs. Ava Willing Astor, who will arrive next Wednesday to spend several weeks at the Homestead, will be entertained by a number of friends here.

The Baron and Baroness Rosenkrantz will sail from London next week and after a brief visit in New York and Washington will join Mr. and Mrs. George Gunton at Gunton Lodge for the fall and winter seasons.

The Comtesse de Sibour and the Vicomtesse Henri de Sibour, who have been house guests of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Moore, at Pride's Crossing, arrived here Thursday and will be joined later at the Homestead by a party of Washington friends.

Miss Gaudier, who arrived several weeks earlier than usual for the fall season, came down from Newport last week.

Mrs. Gouverneur Kortright arrived at the Springs this morning, when a special train of six Pullman sleepers brought in a crowd for the week-end.

leaved a hotel cottage for the fall season, are expected from the North Shore shortly, as is Miss Margaret Draper, daughter of the late ambassador to Rome. Miss Draper will be the house guest of Miss Alice Whiting, at Barton Lodge.

Mr. and Mrs. Melville E. Ingalls and the Misses Gladys Ingalls and Abbie Barnard will spend the fall season at Inglescot and will entertain several house parties.

Mrs. Ava Willing Astor, who will arrive next Wednesday to spend several weeks at the Homestead, will be entertained by a number of friends here.

The Baron and Baroness Rosenkrantz will sail from London next week and after a brief visit in New York and Washington will join Mr. and Mrs. George Gunton at Gunton Lodge for the fall and winter seasons.

The Comtesse de Sibour and the Vicomtesse Henri de Sibour, who have been house guests of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Moore, at Pride's Crossing, arrived here Thursday and will be joined later at the Homestead by a party of Washington friends.

Miss Gaudier, who arrived several weeks earlier than usual for the fall season, came down from Newport last week.

Mrs. Gouverneur Kortright arrived at the Springs this morning, when a special train of six Pullman sleepers brought in a crowd for the week-end.

Tyler's
 FIRST AND BROAD STS.
 RICHMOND, VA.

Advanced Fall Styles

Superb Tailored Suits

FOR

Ladies and Misses

$17.50 Each.

Actually worth and will sell later in the season for $20.00 and $25.00. Made of all-wool English worsted, with extra quality satin linings. The art of the tailor and richness of the material deserve your special attention.

New 32-inch coat, with most up-to-date skirt, blues and blacks, all sizes, women's and misses'. Only 25 on sale at this price.

Some are handsomely trimmed, others plain. Whether you desire a new suit now or later, it will pay you to see our stock and compare the values with other houses.

No Charge for Altering.

F. L. MANDLOVE Manager.